

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY JUNE 20.

TO-DAY'S ANNIVERSARIES.

Born: Dr. Adam Ferguson (historian), 1723.
Anna Letitia Aiken, 1748.
Died: William IV, 1837.
Richard Brinsley Sheridan, 1819.
Gen. Santa Anna, 1829.

Alaska ceded to the United States, 1867.
Victoria succeeds to the throne of England, 1857.

QUESTIONS FOR THE SOUTH.

The Memphis Avalanche, a democratic paper, of course, preaches and then answers the following questions.—

For twenty years, we repeat, nearly $2,000,000 a year has been expended for the education of the negro.

Have they a greater sense of the dignity of labor now than they had at the close of the war?

Has their moral condition been improved?

Do they vote intelligently?

To all these questions the answer is emphatically, No!

Negro labor is utterly unreliable, and it is becoming more so every year. Their moral condition has not been improved to the smallest degree. They are no discernible whatever in the exercise of the elective franchise, but vote only against anything and everything the whites favor.

"Negro men," said their local agent last week, "must stand by each other regardless of what the cost may be." This is the key-note.

It will not take an unprejudiced person long to see what is being done in the south for the education of the negro.

The report shows that for 1886-87 there were 1,118,555 colored children in the public schools of the south; 1,771 were in the normal schools; 6,555 were in the secondary schools; 922 in the colleges of arts and sciences; 849 in the schools of science; 933 in the schools of theology; 81 in the schools of law; and 165 in the schools of medicine.

No one who has not a deep-seated prejudice against the colored race will pretend that the negroes in the south are being improved in their moral and mental condition. Of course thousands of them are ignorant, and never can be educated, but this much can also be said of thousands of whites in the south.

If the negro is "utterly unreliable," who is largely responsible for keeping him in that condition? Has the Avalanche, or any of the democratic papers or democratic leaders in the south ever done anything to raise the moral standard of the negro? Haven't they done all in their power to degrade the colored people, by robbing them of their political rights, by driving them from colleges, by murdering them as if they were of no more value than dogs, by decreasing the standard of wages, and by doing many other acts of violence and injustice?

It is simple justice that the "negroes must stand together." The attacks of the whites have been outrageous, and if the "negro men" didn't stand together in order to protect themselves, who would? The whites of the south? Not much.

THE PENNSYLVANIA VOTE.

The vote of Pennsylvania on the constitutional amendment to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks reached about 600,000, and the amendment is lost by nearly 200,000 against it. This will be a surprise to many temperance people. There was not much hope of success, but it was expected that the majority against prohibition would not exceed 15,000, or 25,000 at most.

This tremendous vote against constitutional prohibition shows conclusively that the people of Pennsylvania have lost faith in the power of prohibition to stop drunkenness. The history of the prohibition movement in this country, and the character of the leaders of the movement, did not strengthen the cause in Pennsylvania. Politics had nothing to do with the result. The people did not want a constitutional amendment, and voted against it.

The Philadelphia Ledger is one of the most carefully edited papers in the country. It is always on the side of temperance and good morals. Its opinion will count for as much as that of any metropolitan journal in the United States. Speaking of the proposed amendment, it said, "It, in fact, entails so much risk of bringing about a bad condition of affairs for two years or more after its adoption, it should be adopted, by a total overthrow of the Brooks act without providing any law to replace the existing penal law, that we have been unable to see the practical wisdom of advocating the amendment—while at the same time we have not felt willing to enter into active opposition to the unquestionably good people who see in the prohibitory amendment an instrumentality for unqualified good which we do not think it contains."

Very many persons who sincerely desire the triumph of the anti-saloon movement looked at the question from the same point of view as the Public Ledger, and voted against prohibition. Philadelphia, which has an admirable liquor law, and which has worked wonders in the way of temperance reform, gave 92,600 majority against the amendment.

Our democratic friends take great pride in speaking of the democratic sympathy of the Jeffersonian democracy. How is this for the Baltimore Sun?—

"Late on Monday afternoon a horse and buggy was driven up to the hotel Normandia, on the corner of Fifteenth and First streets. The driver and only occupant was a short, stout-built man of pale complexion. Scarcely one of the hundreds of people who walked and drove on the populous thoroughfares had the least idea who the man was. He was the President of the United States. He alighted from the vehicle and sent a messenger into the hotel by one of its retainers. He stood on the sidewalk for probably ten minutes, and in the meantime several gentlemen who came along and recognized him stopped and exchanged the customary salutations. Then another man, taller and of much shelier build, descended the hotel steps. He extended his hand, and after

HE IS BURKE'S PARTNER.

THE POLICE LOOKING FOR COONEY, "THE FOX."

Burke has Not Confessed—An Indictment Against Him Returned—The Church and the Clan-na-Gael.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The police want to find Michael Cooney, alias "the Fox." Evidence is accumulating that Martin Burke, the Winnipeg prisoner, is one of the "Williams" brothers who leased the Carlton cottage. In Michael Cooney the police believe that they have discovered the other brother.

The police believe the Williams brothers were the actual murderers of Dr. Cronin. When Chief Hubbard was asked whether he wanted Cooney he replied:

"Of course we do."

Cooney is believed to be one of the Williams brothers. He answers the description of the smaller one of the two mysterious individuals, as does Martin Burke that of the larger one. Cooney is a brick-layer by trade and is a most unscrupulous fellow by disposition. He was a member of camp 20 of the Clan-na-Gael, and moreover, was an intimate friend of the smaller of the Williams brothers.

Cooney is said to have left Chicago on the night of the Sunday on which Dr. Cronin was murdered. That was the night of May 4, and he was seen at the Carlton cottage on the evening of May 4, and one man has been found who claims to have seen a man, answering the bricklayer's description, leaving the cottage shortly before 11 o'clock on that night.

Cooney is from Connaught and has been in America about six years.

BURKE INDICTED.

The Fugitive Is Charged With Murder of Cronin and Conspiracy.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The grand jury about 12 o'clock to-day presented an indictment against Martin Burke, charging him with the murder of Dr. Cronin. The indictment is in two counts, the first being for the unqualified charge of murder; the second alleges conspiracy to do murder, and names Frank Woodruff, Dan Coughlin, P. O'Sullivan and other unknown persons as the co-conspirators.

When the indictment was handed to Judge Shepard he glanced at it and then turned it to a clerk, who at once repaired to Clerk Gilbert's office to make out the final papers necessary for taking procedure to extradite Burke, who is now in jail in Winnipeg.

The indictment against Burke consists of two counts. The first alleges that evidence produced before the grand jury of Cook county, Illinois, goes to show that "Martin Burke, otherwise called Frank Williams, and divers other persons, a more particular description of whom to the said jurors unknown, did on May 4, 1889, feloniously and with malice, make an assault on the body of Patrick Henry Cronin, and by striking him on the head and body with instruments or weapons, a more particular description of which is unknown to the jury did make wounds that caused the death of said Patrick Henry Cronin."

The same idea is repeated with all careful verbiage used in framing indictments so as to cover all possible combinations of circumstances in the commission of crime.

The second count of the indictment is almost identical with the first as to the man Burke and the divers unknown persons associated with him, but the action charged against him and them is that they "did conspire to assault and murder one Patrick Henry Cronin," and the further charge is made that the purpose of this conspiracy was carried out as conceived.

Capt. Schuttler is said to have discovered that Burke had been plotting to kill Cronin for a long time before he succeeded. For instance, when Cronin was summoned to a deserted place on Butterfield street to attend a sick man whom he never found, Burke had moved to that neighborhood a short time previous. It is said that he was there for the purpose of murdering Cronin, and failed to do the work on account of being drunk. Not only so, but he shot off his mouth with great freedom while there, and made no secret of the fact, especially when he was drunk, that he meant to kill Cronin.

BURKE HAS NOT CONFESSED.

He Has Retained Former Counsel and Will Fight His Extradition.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, June 20.—The statement sent out from here that Burke was believed to have made a confession and offered to turn State's evidence is pure fabrication. There is not the slightest particle of truth in it. Burke is much annoyed about the matter and expressed the opinion to his lawyer and the police that such a statement might prejudice his interests. He was wonderfully agitated, and the police think it was because he feared such a statement might induce some one in Chicago to "split" upon him.

The strictest watch is being kept on Burke now in view of the fact that several suspicious-looking characters have arrived in the city and are lurking about. It is thought they are here in the interest of the conspirators responsible for Cronin's murder, and that they are waiting for an opportunity to communicate with the prisoner. Every precaution is being taken to prevent this occurring, and as the prisoner's lawyer is a very conscientious man and has been warned not to carry any communication to Burke, it is most probable that the conspirators will be unable to accomplish anything.

The copy of the photograph of Burke which was sent from Chicago has reached here and was instantly recognized as being that of the prisoner. The identical man on the left eye which Superintendent Hubbard emphasized so strongly was easily recognized, with the aid of a powerful microscope. Hubbard and Chief McEae have exchanged a number of telegrams within the last twelve hours, which satisfy both that Burke is the right man.

Burke was very communicative when first arrested and would doubtless have told the whole story had an interruption not taken place. He gave many particulars about his movements after the murder, such as the length of time he was in Chicago, where he went afterward, and how he spent his time before reaching Winnipeg, etc.

Burke has retained additional legal talent, and his lawyers are engaged in studying up the extradition law. They declare that the indictment of Burke by the Chicago grand jury is not sufficient to send him back, and that, according to British criminal law, witnesses must come from Chicago and prove to the satisfaction of the judge that Burke is implicated in the murder before he can be sent back. This being the case, every effort has been put forth to retain him here.

Some telegrams have passed between the Chicago and local police relative to the contents of Burke's valise. There is in it a brown macintosh which is supposed to have belonged to Cronin. There is much local excitement over the case and developments are being watched with keen interest.

Burke has been photographed by the chief of police. The prisoner struggled hard to prevent a picture being taken. Officer Collins of the Chicago police force is expected here to-day.

IS BURKE A BRITISH SUBJECT?

Procedure in Order to Have the Winnipeg Prisoner Extradited.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Martin Burke not having been naturalized is still a British subject. Inquiry was made at the State department to-day as to whether or not the Canadian authorities would be likely to surrender the fugitive upon the presentation of extradition papers.

Assistant Secretary Moore, who has charge of all extradition cases, was of the opinion that no serious obstacles would be met, as, although there is no international treaty in existence that compels any country to surrender one of her subjects to the country of another, Great Britain and the United States have invariably exchanged courtesies of this kind when the guilt of the accused was clearly established.

To bring Burke back to Chicago the Governor of Illinois must make application to the State Department for extradition papers, and Secretary Blaine will then authorize an emissary to go to Ottawa and make a formal request to the Dominion government for the prisoner. Burke will then be taken before a Canadian magistrate at Winnipeg, and if sufficient evidence is produced to justify his commitment he will be surrendered to the custody of the officer who is authorized to escort him to Chicago.

The copy of an indictment is not sufficient to secure the extradition of the fugitive, the treaty between the two countries requiring that the evidence of guilt must be conclusively shown. Consequently if Burke shows fight the Chicago officers must take their witnesses against him to Winnipeg and orally prove to the satisfaction of the magistrate Burke's complicity in the crime.

THE CLAN-NA-GAEL.

It Is Alleged That Cronin Murdered the Catholic Church in the United States.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 20.—It is given out from a source that has always been regarded as very close to Archbishop Gibbons, that the developments concerning the Clan-na-Gael have been brought out by the murder of Dr. Cronin in Chicago will without delay receive the very serious consideration of the highest authorities of the Catholic Church in the United States.

To quote the words of the "chancellor of one of the largest dioceses" of the country, who stands close to the Cardinal and who was summoned to Baltimore within a few days:

"The church will await the developments of the civil authorities in the investigation of the Cronin conspiracy before it will take any action. It should be developed the Clan-na-Gael is in any way responsible for this deplorable affair I have no doubt that steps will be taken which will result in the order being condemned by name by all the archbishops of the country. The duty of the church is very plain in the matter, and its line of action is clearly marked out by the decrees of the third plenary council."

LABOUCHERE'S THEORY.

He Declares Sullivan Did Not Misapprehend League Funds.

LONDON, June 21.—Mr. Labouchere, writing in Truth about the charges against Alexander Sullivan, says that everything at the times which has an agent and banking account in Chicago, can do to prejudice the public against Mr. Sullivan will be effectively done, first, because Alexander Sullivan advised Patrick Egan respecting information sent to England regarding the Larnell forgeries, and second, because he selected Father Dorney to convey across the ocean the documents which constituted the charges against Mr. Sullivan misapprehended funds intrusted to him is known to be absolutely untrue. He thinks it is probable that the forgeries have been brought against Mr. Sullivan in order to compel the production of the books of the American league, just as the forgeries were published in order to obtain an inquiry into the Irish league's finances.

Norland's Queer Statement.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Carl P. Norland, a young Swede, has made a statement in which he declares that Charles McDonald, one of the men liberated on habeas corpus by Judge Andrews Monday, was one of a trio who tried to induce him to take a letter to Dr. Cronin from the Dearborn street railroad station in Chicago on the evening of April 13, just three weeks before Cronin was murdered.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

The Poll-Tax Amendment Barred With the Prohibitory Amendment.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 20.—Returns received to-day show that the suffrage amendment—proposing the abolition of the poll-tax—was defeated by a decided majority notwithstanding the fact that Philadelphia gave 92,335 for its adoption. The latest estimate from Allegheny county is 30,000 against the poll-tax abolition. The following majorities in counties were reported to-day:

Allegheny county, estimated, 30,000 against the suffrage amendment; Lebanon county, anti-prohibition, 5,250; anti-suffrage amendment, 941; Carbon county, anti-prohibition amendment, 2,392; anti-suffrage amendment, 2,070; Mifflin county, for prohibition, 700; anti-suffrage amendment, 2,689; Lancaster county, anti-prohibition, 11,083; anti-suffrage amendment, 2,464; Northumberland county, anti-prohibition, 608; anti-suffrage amendment, 5,571; Clinton county, for prohibition, 75.

Dr. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER.

Most Perfect Made.

Dr. B. MINCE, the eminent oculist of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this county during the summer. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes affected by interior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

It is estimated that during the past ten years the American people have subscribed upwards of twenty million dollars to relieve sufferers by distresses and epidemics.

Dr. B. MINCE, the eminent oculist of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this county during the summer. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes affected by interior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

It will be at the Myers House, Janesville, two days only, Friday and Saturday, July 12th and 13th, 1889.

For a disordered liver try Beecham's Pills.

THE POLICE LOOKING FOR COONEY, "THE FOX."

Burke has Not Confessed—An Indictment Against Him Returned—The Church and the Clan-na-Gael.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The police want to find Michael Cooney, alias "the Fox." Evidence is accumulating that Martin Burke, the Winnipeg prisoner, is one of the "Williams" brothers who leased the Carlton cottage. In Michael Cooney the police believe that they have discovered the other brother.

The police believe the Williams brothers were the actual murderers of Dr. Cronin. When Chief Hubbard was asked whether he wanted Cooney he replied:

"Of course we do."

Cooney is believed to be one of the Williams brothers. He answers the description of the smaller one of the two mysterious individuals, as does Martin Burke that of the larger one. Cooney is a brick-layer by trade and is a most unscrupulous fellow by disposition. He was a member of camp 20 of the Clan-na-Gael, and moreover, was an intimate friend of the smaller of the Williams brothers.

Cooney is said to have left Chicago on the night of the Sunday on which Dr. Cronin was murdered. That was the night of May 4, and he was seen at the Carlton cottage on the evening of May 4, and one man has been found who claims to have seen a man, answering the bricklayer's description, leaving the cottage shortly before 11 o'clock on that night.

Cooney is from Connaught and has been in America about six years.

BURKE INDICTED.

The Fugitive Is Charged With Murder of Cronin and Conspiracy.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The grand jury about 12 o'clock to-day presented an indictment against Martin Burke, charging him with the murder of Dr. Cronin. The indictment is in two counts, the first being for the unqualified charge of murder; the second alleges conspiracy to do murder, and names Frank Woodruff, Dan Coughlin, P. O'Sullivan and other unknown persons as the co-conspirators.

When the indictment was handed to Judge Shepard he glanced at it and then turned it to a clerk, who at once repaired to Clerk Gilbert's office to make out the final papers necessary for taking procedure to extradite Burke, who is now in jail in Winnipeg.

The indictment against Burke consists of two counts. The first alleges that evidence produced before the grand jury of Cook county, Illinois, goes to show that "Martin Burke, otherwise called Frank Williams, and divers other persons, a more particular description of whom to the said jurors unknown, did on May 4, 1889, feloniously and with malice, make an assault on the body of Patrick Henry Cronin, and by striking him on the head and body with instruments or weapons, a more particular description of which is unknown to the jury did make wounds that caused the death of said Patrick Henry Cronin."

The same idea is repeated with all careful verbiage used in framing indictments so as to cover all possible combinations of circumstances in the commission of crime.

The second count of the indictment is almost identical with the first as to the man Burke and the divers unknown persons associated with him, but the action charged against him and them is that they "did conspire to assault and murder one Patrick Henry Cronin," and the further charge is made that the purpose of this conspiracy was carried out as conceived.

Capt. Schuttler is said to have discovered that Burke had been plotting to kill Cronin for a long time before he succeeded. For instance, when Cronin was summoned to a deserted place on Butterfield street to attend a sick man whom he never found, Burke had moved to that neighborhood a short time previous. It is said that he was there for the purpose of murdering Cronin, and failed to do the work on account of being drunk. Not only so, but he shot off his mouth with great freedom while there, and made no secret of the fact, especially when he was drunk, that he meant to kill Cronin.

BURKE HAS NOT CONFESSED.

He Has Retained Former Counsel and Will Fight His Extradition.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, June 20.—The statement sent out from here that Burke was believed to have made a confession and offered to turn State's evidence is pure fabrication. There is not the slightest particle of truth in it. Burke is much annoyed about the matter and expressed the opinion to his lawyer and the police that such a statement might prejudice his interests. He was wonderfully agitated, and the police think it was because he feared such a statement might induce some one in Chicago to "split" upon him.

The strictest watch is being kept on Burke now in view of the fact that several suspicious-looking characters have arrived in the city and are lurking about. It is thought they are here in the interest of the conspirators responsible for Cronin's murder, and that they are waiting for an opportunity to communicate with the prisoner. Every precaution is being taken to prevent this occurring, and as the prisoner's lawyer is a very conscientious man and has been warned not to carry any communication to Burke, it is most probable that the conspirators will be unable to accomplish anything.

The copy of the photograph of Burke which was sent from Chicago has reached here and was instantly recognized as being that of the prisoner. The identical man on the left eye which Superintendent Hubbard emphasized so strongly was easily recognized, with the aid of a powerful microscope. Hubbard and Chief McEae have exchanged a number of telegrams within the last twelve hours, which satisfy both that Burke is the right man.

Burke was very communicative when first arrested and would doubtless have told the whole story had an interruption not taken place. He gave many particulars about his movements after the murder, such as the length of time he was in Chicago, where he went afterward, and how he spent his time before reaching Winnipeg, etc.

Burke has retained additional legal talent, and his lawyers are engaged in studying up the extradition law. They declare that the indictment of Burke by the Chicago grand jury is not sufficient to send him back, and that, according to British criminal law, witnesses must come from Chicago and prove to the satisfaction of the judge that Burke is implicated in the murder before he can be sent back. This being the case, every effort has been put forth to retain him here.

Some telegrams have passed between the Chicago and local police relative to the contents of Burke's valise. There is in it a brown macintosh which is supposed to have belonged to Cronin. There is much local excitement over the case and developments are being watched with keen interest.

Burke has been photographed by the chief of police. The prisoner struggled hard to prevent a picture being taken. Officer Collins of the Chicago police force is expected here to-day.

IS BURKE A BRITISH SUBJECT?

Procedure in Order to Have the Winnipeg Prisoner Extradited.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Martin Burke not having been naturalized is still a British subject. Inquiry was made at the State department to-day as to whether or not the Canadian authorities would be likely to surrender the fugitive upon the presentation of extradition papers.

Assistant Secretary Moore, who has charge of all extradition cases, was of the opinion that no serious obstacles would be met, as, although there is no international treaty in existence that compels any country to surrender one of her subjects to the country of another, Great Britain and the United States have invariably exchanged courtesies of this kind when the guilt of the accused was clearly established.

To bring Burke back to Chicago the Governor of Illinois must make application to the State Department for extradition papers, and Secretary Blaine will then authorize an emissary to go to Ottawa and make a formal request to the Dominion government for the prisoner. Burke will then be taken before a Canadian magistrate at Winnipeg, and if sufficient evidence is produced to justify his commitment he will be surrendered to the custody of the officer who is authorized to escort him to Chicago.

The copy of an indictment is not sufficient to secure the extradition of the fugitive, the treaty between the two countries requiring that the evidence of guilt must be conclusively shown. Consequently if Burke shows fight the Chicago officers must take their witnesses against him to Winnipeg and orally prove to the satisfaction of the magistrate Burke's complicity in the crime.

THE CLAN-NA-GAEL.

It Is Alleged That Cronin Murdered the Catholic Church in the United States.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 20.—It is given out from a source that has always been regarded as very close to Archbishop Gibbons, that the developments concerning the Clan-na-Gael have been brought out by the murder of Dr. Cronin in Chicago will without delay receive the very serious consideration of the highest authorities of the Catholic Church in the United States.

To quote the words of the "chancellor of one of the largest dioceses" of the country, who stands close to the Cardinal and who was summoned to Baltimore within a few days:

"The church will await the developments of the civil authorities in the investigation of the Cronin conspiracy before it will take any action. It should be developed the Clan-na-Gael is in any way responsible for this deplorable affair I have no doubt that steps will be taken which will result in the order being condemned by name by all the archbishops of the country. The duty of the church is very plain in the matter, and its line of action is clearly marked out by the decrees of the third plenary council."

LABOUCHERE'S THEORY.

He Declares Sullivan Did Not Misapprehend League Funds.

LONDON, June 21.—Mr. Labouchere, writing in Truth about the charges against Alexander Sullivan, says that everything at the times which has an agent and banking account in Chicago, can do to prejudice the public against Mr. Sullivan will be effectively done, first, because Alexander Sullivan advised Patrick Egan respecting information sent to England regarding the Larnell forgeries, and second, because he selected Father Dorney to convey across the ocean the documents which constituted the charges against Mr. Sullivan misapprehended funds intrusted to him is known to be absolutely untrue. He thinks it is probable that the forgeries have been brought against Mr. Sullivan in order to compel the production of the books of the American league, just as the forgeries were published in order to obtain an inquiry into the Irish league's finances.

Norland's Queer Statement.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Carl P. Norland, a young Swede, has made a statement in which he declares that Charles McDonald, one of the men liberated on habeas corpus by Judge Andrews Monday, was one of a trio who tried to induce him to take a letter to Dr. Cronin from the Dearborn street railroad station in Chicago on the evening of April 13, just three weeks before Cronin was murdered.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

The Poll-Tax Amendment Barred With the Prohibitory Amendment.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 20.—Returns received to-day show that the suffrage amendment—proposing the abolition of the poll-tax—was defeated by a decided majority notwithstanding the fact that Philadelphia gave 92,335 for its adoption. The latest estimate from Allegheny county is 30,000 against the poll-tax abolition. The following majorities in counties were reported to-day:

Allegheny county, estimated, 30,000 against the suffrage amendment; Lebanon county, anti-prohibition, 5,250; anti-suffrage amendment, 941; Carbon county, anti-prohibition amendment, 2,392; anti-suffrage amendment, 2,070; Mifflin county, for prohibition, 700; anti-suffrage amendment, 2,689; Lancaster county, anti-prohibition, 11,083; anti-suffrage amendment, 2,464; Northumberland county, anti-prohibition, 608; anti-suffrage amendment, 5,571; Clinton county, for prohibition, 75.

Dr. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER.

Most Perfect Made.

Dr. B. MINCE, the eminent oculist of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this county during the summer. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes affected by interior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

It is estimated that during the past ten years the American people have subscribed upwards of twenty million dollars to relieve sufferers by distresses and epidemics.

Dr. B. MINCE, the eminent oculist of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this county during the summer. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes affected by interior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

It will be at the Myers House, Janesville, two days only, Friday and Saturday, July 12th and 13th, 1889.

For a disordered liver try Beecham's Pills.

HOT BARGAINS

AT THE

Chicago Store

THE LARGEST STOCK,

BEST ASSORTMENT,

AND

LOWEST PRICES EVER SHOWN!

IN JANESVILLE.

Don't buy one penny's worth until you get our prices, and we will convince that we are justly entitled to the reputation of being the only Genuine Bargain Store in Janesville. If you want

Dress Goods or Millinery,

Hats and Caps,

White Goods, Laces, Embroideries,

Table Linen, Carpets,

Men's, Boys' and Children's Ready-made CLOTHING

Trunks and Valises,

And in fact any thing kept in Dry Goods or Clothing Stores. Come and see us and we will save you lots of money, and you will not have to say what we hear a dozen times a day, "I wish I had gone to the Chicago Store, before I bought my goods."

CHICAGO BARGAIN STORE.

Extraordinary bargains in men's, boys' and child's suits. Grand Army suits, best made at 7 00 to $8 00; others ask 9 50 to $12 00.

LIFE AND ACCIDENT

Insurance : Agency.

Real Estate and Money to Loan.

RUST & JAMESON,

Bennett's Block, West Milwaukee St.

District Managers for The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Milwaukee, Wis., and The Standard Accident Insurance Co., of Detroit, Michigan, both of which challenge competition.

Given Away!

ONE :: ECLIPSE :: HOSE :: REEL

With every 100 feet of

GARDEN HOSE

purchased at

LOCAL MATTERS.

Foies' wheat germ gluten flour at Denniston's.

Kindling for sale, sawed in short lengths. The best is the cheapest.

H. A. Dorr, Box Co., 117 North Main street.

Wood and Coal.

Leave orders for wood and coal at Sanborn & Son's grocery next door to Metcalf & Gowdy's West Milwaukee street.

BLAIR & GOWDY.

FOR SALE CHEAP—A fine building lot on Milton avenue. Enquire of J. O. Johnson 61½ East Milwaukee street.

LADDERS—Smith & Gateley have taken the agency of the Davenport Ladder Company, and will hereafter keep in stock at their West Milwaukee street yard, a full line of those celebrated ladders, both single and extension of all lengths. These ladders are all made from the best New England straight-grained spruce plank, all perfect and free from knots. They are much more durable, and can be sold at lower prices than the common ladders.

Baby carriages, express wagons, hammocks, base ball goods, etc., at Spoon & Snyder's.

LOOK—At those choice lots in the first ward for sale by D. CONGER.

THOSE BEAUTIFUL HANDS.

Last night I held her hand in mine. Her hand so slender and divine. But now another hand I hold. A hand well worth its weight in gold. Just think of it—four cases!

Talking about a hand that wins what's the matter with the hand of the Milwaukee Clothing Company to be found elsewhere in this town? This is a hand that will beat any four aces you ever saw. This is not an occasional hand but one that can play "pat" all the time. Do not fail to read their price list and see what eight, ten or twelve dollars will buy. There is no use talking, it pays to buy clothing from the manufacturers, as you are bound to save at least thirty-three per cent. on your investment. A full line of goods, including coats, suits, hats, and every thing that man wants for a little money.

FOR SALE—A new house on Center avenue, No. 208. Enquire of Geo. O. McLean, Jr.

D. Conger's office is the place for bargains in houses, lots, farms and western land.

To EXCHANGE—For a small farm in this county, a fine, large house, and two lots in this city. D. CONGER.

If you want a fine, new home in this city, see me before you buy. D. CONGER.

Furnished rooms for rent in the 2nd ward. Apply at this office.

Money to loan by D. Conger.

Largest line of fire works ever shown in the city, at Denniston's. Wholesale contracts filled at all prices.

WINDOW SHADES—Any size or color made from our hand made shade cloth. J. SUTHERLAND & SON'S.

J. M. Bostwick & Son's for lace and heavy curtains.

Our great wall paper sale still continues. If you want an assortment to choose from—examine our stock. Prices guaranteed. J. SUTHERLAND & SON'S.

J. M. Bostwick & Son's for gossamer underwear and silk umbrellas.

O. E. Bowles has money to loan.

J. M. Bostwick & Son's for Persian trimmings.

Two nice lots in the first ward for $175 each. O. E. BOWLES.

And now we are dancing so happy and gay. No more we are weary and blue. We have found a good thing and can merrily sing. The praise of Brown Bros., two-forty kid shoe.

O. E. Bowles has money to loan.

J. M. Bostwick & Son's for dry goods and carpets.

WANTED—Young men of good address. Work pleasant and wages good. For full information call on R. Sator at European hotel, Saturday a. m.

House, and east front lot, well located on Terrace street for $300. O. E. BOWLES.

We have just received the largest and finest line of window shades and shade cloth ever shown in the city. Call and examine. We will not be undersold. J. SUTHERLAND & SON'S.

Orients, crochets, cord, crochets, cotton, embroidery silks, arseanes, etc., at Spoon & Snyder's.

For bargains in bedroom suits and window and door screens, refrigerators, gasoline stoves, cook stoves, lounge, bathing cabinets, etc., call at Griswold & Sanborn's, 28 S. Main street.

WANTED—Good steady man for farm work. BROWN BROS.

LOST—We have never lost a customer who purchased our $2.40 calf boot, equal to any $3.00 boot in the city. You can always save money by trading at a cash store. BROWN BROS.

Any person who feels the necessity of making every dollar tell in supplying the many pressing necessities of life in the best and most economical manner, should not fail to examine the celebrated Brown Bros. line of men's and boys' shoes. Brown Bros. are the agents.

Full line of Jewett's Refrigerators $10 up; new Lightning Ice Cream Freezers, quadruple motion, Cedar Tub, at Wheelock's.

SHOT DEAD—Mr. Corn, by our old man's Donagela Conger, the widest, easiest shoe made. Ask to see them. BROWN BROS.

O. E. Bowles has money to loan.

To those desiring the best selection of lots in the Third ward, I can furnish a few for first class residences. O. E. BOWLES.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Max Watson's Boonville Brand should always be used for children's clothing. It is the child's friend, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c a bottle.

J. M. Bostwick & Son's for jackets and wraps.

SHIRTS.

Judge Bennett is at Jefferson today.

Charles E. Field is in Beloit today on business.

Register of Deeds O. L. Valentine is in Madison today on business.

Senior concert at Beloit to-night. Many from this city are expected to attend.

John Slightam, of the Gazette office, is visiting friends in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

W. S. Jeffris and John V. Norcoros are attending commencement exercises at Beloit today.

Misses Julia and Gertrude Eohlin, who have been spending a few days in Madison, returned home this morning.

Mrs. A. M. Riddell, matron of the Industrial school at Waukesha, is in the city, the guest of Miss B. Salmon.

Mrs. J. M. Pool, now of Clinton, Iowa, is in the city a guest of Mrs. Q. O. Sutherland, 6 South Franklin street.

A large delegation went to Madison this morning to take part in a shooting match given by the Gun club of that city today.

Persons desiring sewing such as can be taken home to do, will find the opportunity by calling at Lewis Bro's knitting factory.

Janeville chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons, assemble in regular semi-monthly convocation this evening at Masonic hall.

Messrs. G. A. Lampher and Frank W. Douglas have purchased the hardware store of Metcalf & Gowdy, 63 West Milwaukee street.

Fred Sheldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sheldon, fourth ward, who is student at the state university is at home to spend the summer vacation.

Miss O. G. Rustrad, teacher in the institute for the blind, leaves this evening for Janesville, Minnesota, where she will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Spence will entertain the members of Trinity church choir at their home, corner of Pleasant and Palm streets this evening.

Horace Keniston while fishing at the rear of I. O. Brownell's grocery this morning, caught a cat fish that tipped the scales at eight pounds.

Edwin F. Carpenter, Esq., went to Beloit this morning to attend commencement exercises. Mr. Carpenter is an alumnus of Beloit college.

The Duncan & Clark Minstrel Company, were in the city this morning. They were on their way to Albany, where they hold forth this evening.

The Salvation Army held sort of an open air revival meeting near the fountain at corn exchange square last evening. They drew a large audience.

Mr. A. C. McKinstry of the firm of Frank A. Beck & Co. West Milwaukee street, returned from Chicago last evening where he purchased a large stock of new goods.

A carryall left the institute for the blind this morning enroute for Beloit. Many of the teachers and their friends went down to be present at the senior concert to-night.

Judge Bennett will return from Jefferson this evening and the circuit court will open to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. Argument of motions for new trials will be taken up.

William Roper, Esq., of this city, was elected a member of the standing committee at the meeting of the Milwaukee diocese of the Episcopal church now in session in that city.

Fred Norcoros, who has been attending the Harvard law school at Cambridge, Massachusetts, has returned to Janesville, and will spend the summer with his parents in this city.

At the municipal court to-day information was filed in the John Birmingham forgery case, the defendant pled not guilty and the case adjourned for drawing a jury, until Thursday, June 27th.

Mr. Gideon E. Newman and Miss Mae West were married at Evansville yesterday. Mr. Newman was formerly a resident of Cookeville, Rock county, but is now an attorney at Kearney, Neb.

Besides being a Knights Templar A. K. P. and a member of the Fire Police the late John Griffith was a member of the United Workmen and had an insurance of two thousand dollars in that order.

The case of Mrs. Janette Witham vs. Emil Gauger and Fred Gieser for breaking a window light and look at the house of the plaintiff, first ward, was settled without a trial, and the warrant returned.

"The Tale of Conemangh" is the title of a beautiful new song and chorus descriptive of the terrible Johnstown disaster which has just been received and now for sale by S. O. Burnham & Company.

Mr. James Cantillon, manager of the Champion Base Ball Club, who had the misfortune to dislocate a knee during a game of ball, is in the city. It will be a number of weeks before he is able to resume his duties.

Harry E. Farquharson who is connected with Benjamin Allen & Co., wholesale jewelers of Chicago, is calling on friends in this city. His many old acquaintances are glad to see him. Mr. Farquharson was formerly a resident of Janesville.

Janeville ladies may rest easy now. Le Cresse has just completed a fire alarm system, and Tuesday a lady attempted to mail a letter in one of the boxes, and the entire fire department surrounded her before she could get away.

Miss Cora Clemons, type writer in the law office of Fethers, Jeffris & Field, is at Madison, attending the graduation exercises, and visiting friends.

Miss Clemons was formerly a member of the university class which graduated yesterday.

A meeting of the directors of the Loan, Building & Savings Association will be held on Friday evening, of this week, at the office of Susan Heyner, formerly occupied by John M. Whitehead, for the purpose of loaning money now on hand.

The incorporators of the new Flexible Engine and Threshing Machine Company of Milton Junction, are: Robert Miller, H. H. Harris, James P. Ballis, Phelo, Gelbert, G. H. Button, I. W.

Ben Miller, the Green county forger, mention of whom has been frequently made in the Gazette, escaped from the Green county jail last Saturday morning between one and two o'clock. Being under the doctor's care he was transferred to the hospital ward. Having been pronounced seriously ill the usual precautions were not observed. His game was so finely played that he, even fooled the doctor. Many thought Miller received assistance from the outside. In giving an account of Miller's escape and capture, and of his self-destruction the Monroe Sentinel, of June 19th, says: Sheriff Jackson telegraphed and sent postal cards offering a reward of $100, in every direction, and took all precautions to head off his man; and meantime covered a good deal of ground in the woods between Monroe and Franklin, Saturday p. m., thinking that Miller might be in that neighborhood. How near he guessed, the facts will bear witness. Miller arrived at Peterson's house, at Franklin, about 12 o'clock Saturday night, and was in that vicinity until five o'clock Sunday afternoon, or thereabouts. He found friends in that vicinity, evidently, who fed him and gave him a blanket to sleep on in Shattuck's barn. Although his presence was known Sunday morning by several, it was not until Jo. Land got out that the officers were notified at Monroe, by Mr. Land. Sheriff Jackson and Deputy Cal. More immediately started, and traveled as fast as possible, but on arriving at Shattuck's found Miller had left the barn and taken to the woods. He had probably been notified in some way that he had been discovered. The sheriff collected a posse of neighbors and secured the woods, the barns and other hiding places in the vicinity, and guarded the roads and crossings to prevent an escape. It was known that Miller was in the belt, and that he was making for Brownstown; that he was feeble and not able to travel fast, as it took him twelve hours to get from Monroe to Franklin Mills, a distance of five miles. Cal. More and Mr. Hagan drove to Brownstown, and after midnight, to notify the people there to be on the watch. But Miller probably got to Brownstown about the same time that the officers did. When he was discovered, he came to the house where James Dale was living, who recognized him. Miller saw his mistake and so left immediately. Dale at once went to the hotel and notified Deputy Baker, who proceeded a posse and followed down the road from Dale's and overtook the fugitive at about four o'clock p. m., Monday, about two miles south of Brownstown. He was brought back to Brownstown, and taken to the hotel, where he probably took his dose of strychnine, and died from its effects at about seven o'clock. He had drunk some milk before, refusing to eat breakfast with the officer, and while the men were eating their breakfast he took the fatal dose. His body was brought to Monroe and buried at the county's expense on Tuesday. The only person who saw Miller take the poison was a son of Mr. Trickle, a mere boy. These are mainly and particularly the facts as gathered from diligent inquiry.

RE FOUND NO PUNDER.

A BURGLAR ENTERS THE STUDIO OF E. C. BURDICK.

The other morning when Mr. E. C. Burdick was about to enter his studio in the Myers block West Milwaukee street, he took the key from his pocket and proceeded to unlock the door which he found to be locked. Mr. Burdick then inquired of the janitor of the building whether he had left the door unlocked. He had been absent from town a number of days, and it occurred to him that he might have forgotten to lock it as he was in somewhat of a hurry when he left the rooms two or three evenings before. At the right as you enter the studio at the further end of the hall, is a door that leads to a small room which contained, among other things, a chest in which Mr. Burdick kept tools, copying etc. The door to this room was also found to be unlocked, the cover of the large chest which had been securely locked prior evening before was found pried open, and the lock broken. The cover was somewhat demolished, but nothing was taken from the contents of the chest. The burglars evidently thought that it contained something very valuable in the way of artist's materials, money or something of that sort. No other trace of them could be found, and as no particular damage resulted from this work, a search for them was not commenced.

TRY TO GO TO HINNAPOLIS.

RICKFORD AND JANEVILLE CONCORDIA SOCIETIES GO TO THE SANGREEST.

The platform of the Chicago & Northwestern depot was crowded last evening. The members of the Concordia Society were about to depart for Minneapolis. The 8:40 vestibule train pulled in amid cheers from those who stood on the platform, and the other societies on the train responded with songs and hurrahs, which could be heard for some distance. Everybody was happy. Philip Best was also well represented by the article which is such a favorite among our Janesville friends. The Rockford society arrived early in the evening and spent the time between trains in calling on their friends in the vicinity of the depot. Janesville is represented at the Sangreest by about eighteen representatives, among whom are: Louis Knipp, William J. Lennart, Philip W. Koch, Alfred Knapp, Fred Kothman, Michael Boub, Gottlieb Faelman, Herman Sendow, Herman Buchholz, John F. Ehringer, Alois Golling, and Loren Richter. The exercises began this morning.

THE MONROE FORGER IS RE-CAPTURED AND COMMITTS SUICIDE BY TAKING STRYCHNINE.

His Cunning in Planning Escape From the Green County Jail and Hospital.

Ben Miller, the Green county forger, mention of whom has been frequently made in the Gazette, escaped from the Green county jail last Saturday morning between one and two o'clock. Being under the doctor's care he was transferred to the hospital ward. Having been pronounced seriously ill the usual precautions were not observed. His game was so finely played that he, even fooled the doctor. Many thought Miller received assistance from the outside. In giving an account of Miller's escape and capture, and of his self-destruction the Monroe Sentinel, of June 19th, says: Sheriff Jackson telegraphed and sent postal cards offering a reward of $100, in every direction, and took all precautions to head off his man; and meantime covered a good deal of ground in the woods between Monroe and Franklin, Saturday p. m., thinking that Miller might be in that neighborhood. How near he guessed, the facts will bear witness. Miller arrived at Peterson's house, at Franklin, about 12 o'clock Saturday night, and was in that vicinity until five o'clock Sunday afternoon, or thereabouts. He found friends in that vicinity, evidently, who fed him and gave him a blanket to sleep on in Shattuck's barn. Although his presence was known Sunday morning by several, it was not until Jo. Land got out that the officers were notified at Monroe, by Mr. Land. Sheriff Jackson and Deputy Cal. More immediately started, and traveled as fast as possible, but on arriving at Shattuck's found Miller had left the barn and taken to the woods. He had probably been notified in some way that he had been discovered. The sheriff collected a posse of neighbors and secured the woods, the barns and other hiding places in the vicinity, and guarded the roads and crossings to prevent an escape. It was known that Miller was in the belt, and that he was making for Brownstown; that he was feeble and not able to travel fast, as it took him twelve hours to get from Monroe to Franklin Mills, a distance of five miles. Cal. More and Mr. Hagan drove to Brownstown, and after midnight, to notify the people there to be on the watch. But Miller probably got to Brownstown about the same time that the officers did. When he was discovered, he came to the house where James Dale was living, who recognized him. Miller saw his mistake and so left immediately. Dale at once went to the hotel and notified Deputy Baker, who proceeded a posse and followed down the road from Dale's and overtook the fugitive at about four o'clock p. m., Monday, about two miles south of Brownstown. He was brought back to Brownstown, and taken to the hotel, where he probably took his dose of strychnine, and died from its effects at about seven o'clock. He had drunk some milk before, refusing to eat breakfast with the officer, and while the men were eating their breakfast he took the fatal dose. His body was brought to Monroe and buried at the county's expense on Tuesday. The only person who saw Miller take the poison was a son of Mr. Trickle, a mere boy. These are mainly and particularly the facts as gathered from diligent inquiry.

RE FOUND NO PUNDER.

A BURGLAR ENTERS THE STUDIO OF E. C. BURDICK.

The other morning when Mr. E. C. Burdick was about to enter his studio in the Myers block West Milwaukee street, he took the key from his pocket and proceeded to unlock the door which he found to be locked. Mr. Burdick then inquired of the janitor of the building whether he had left the door unlocked. He had been absent from town a number of days, and it occurred to him that he might have forgotten to lock it as he was in somewhat of a hurry when he left the rooms two or three evenings before. At the right as you enter the studio at the further end of the hall, is a door that leads to a small room which contained, among other things, a chest in which Mr. Burdick kept tools, copying etc. The door to this room was also found to be unlocked, the cover of the large chest which had been securely locked prior evening before was found pried open, and the lock broken. The cover was somewhat demolished, but nothing was taken from the contents of the chest. The burglars evidently thought that it contained something very valuable in the way of artist's materials, money or something of that sort. No other trace of them could be found, and as no particular damage resulted from this work, a search for them was not commenced.

TRY TO GO TO HINNAPOLIS.

RICKFORD AND JANEVILLE CONCORDIA SOCIETIES GO TO THE SANGREEST.

The platform of the Chicago & Northwestern depot was crowded last evening. The members of the Concordia Society were about to depart for Minneapolis. The 8:40 vestibule train pulled in amid cheers from those who stood on the platform, and the other societies on the train responded with songs and hurrahs, which could be heard for some distance. Everybody was happy. Philip Best was also well represented by the article which is such a favorite among our Janesville friends. The Rockford society arrived early in the evening and spent the time between trains in calling on their friends in the vicinity of the depot. Janesville is represented at the Sangreest by about eighteen representatives, among whom are: Louis Knipp, William J. Lennart, Philip W. Koch, Alfred Knapp, Fred Kothman, Michael Boub, Gottlieb Faelman, Herman Sendow, Herman Buchholz, John F. Ehringer, Alois Golling, and Loren Richter. The exercises began this morning.

THE MONROE FORGER IS RE-CAPTURED AND COMMITTS SUICIDE BY TAKING STRYCHNINE.

His Cunning in Planning Escape From the Green County Jail and Hospital.

Ben Miller, the Green county forger, mention of whom has been frequently made in the Gazette, escaped from the Green county jail last Saturday morning between one and two o'clock. Being under the doctor's care he was transferred to the hospital ward. Having been pronounced seriously ill the usual precautions were not observed. His game was so finely played that he, even fooled the doctor. Many thought Miller received assistance from the outside. In giving an account of Miller's escape and capture, and of his self-destruction the Monroe Sentinel, of June 19th, says: Sheriff Jackson telegraphed and sent postal cards offering a reward of $100, in every direction, and took all precautions to head off his man; and meantime covered a good deal of ground in the woods between Monroe and Franklin, Saturday p. m., thinking that Miller might be in that neighborhood. How near he guessed, the facts will bear witness. Miller arrived at Peterson's house, at Franklin, about 12 o'clock Saturday night, and was in that vicinity until five o'clock Sunday afternoon, or thereabouts. He found friends in that vicinity, evidently, who fed him and gave him a blanket to sleep on in Shattuck's barn. Although his presence was known Sunday morning by several, it was not until Jo. Land got out that the officers were notified at Monroe, by Mr. Land. Sheriff Jackson and Deputy Cal. More immediately started, and traveled as fast as possible, but on arriving at Shattuck's found Miller had left the barn and taken to the woods. He had probably been notified in some way that he had been discovered. The sheriff collected a posse of neighbors and secured the woods, the barns and other hiding places in the vicinity, and guarded the roads and crossings to prevent an escape. It was known that Miller was in the belt, and that he was making for Brownstown; that he was feeble and not able to travel fast, as it took him twelve hours to get from Monroe to Franklin Mills, a distance of five miles. Cal. More and Mr. Hagan drove to Brownstown, and after midnight, to notify the people there to be on the watch. But Miller probably got to Brownstown about the same time that the officers did. When he was discovered, he came to the house where James Dale was living, who recognized him. Miller saw his mistake and so left immediately. Dale at once went to the hotel and notified Deputy Baker, who proceeded a posse and followed down the road from Dale's and overtook the fugitive at about four o'clock p. m., Monday, about two miles south of Brownstown. He was brought back to Brownstown, and taken to the hotel, where he probably took his dose of strychnine, and died from its effects at about seven o'clock. He had drunk some milk before, refusing to eat breakfast with the officer, and while the men were eating their breakfast he took the fatal dose. His body was brought to Monroe and buried at the county's expense on Tuesday. The only person who saw Miller take the poison was a son of Mr. Trickle, a mere boy. These are mainly and particularly the facts as gathered from diligent inquiry.

RE FOUND NO PUNDER.

A BURGLAR ENTERS THE STUDIO OF E. C. BURDICK.

The other morning when Mr. E. C. Burdick was about to enter his studio in the Myers block West Milwaukee street, he took the key from his pocket and proceeded to unlock the door which he found to be locked. Mr. Burdick then inquired of the janitor of the building whether he had left the door unlocked. He had been absent from town a number of days, and it occurred to him that he might have forgotten to lock it as he was in somewhat of a hurry when he left the rooms two or three evenings before. At the right as you enter the studio at the further end of the hall, is a door that leads to a small room which contained, among other things, a chest in which Mr. Burdick kept tools, copying etc. The door to this room was also found to be unlocked, the cover of the large chest which had been securely locked prior evening before was found pried open, and the lock broken. The cover was somewhat demolished, but nothing was taken from the contents of the chest. The burglars evidently thought that it contained something very valuable in the way of artist's materials, money or something of that sort. No other trace of them could be found, and as no particular damage resulted from this work, a search for them was not commenced.

TRY TO GO TO HINNAPOLIS.

RICKFORD AND JANEVILLE CONCORDIA SOCIETIES GO TO THE SANGREEST.

The platform of the Chicago & Northwestern depot was crowded last evening. The members of the Concordia Society were about to depart for Minneapolis. The 8:40 vestibule train pulled in amid cheers from those who stood on the platform, and the other societies on the train responded with songs and hurrahs, which could be heard for some distance. Everybody was happy. Philip Best was also well represented by the article which is such a favorite among our Janesville friends. The Rockford society arrived early in the evening and spent the time between trains in calling on their friends in the vicinity of the depot. Janesville is represented at the Sangreest by about eighteen representatives, among whom are: Louis Knipp, William J. Lennart, Philip W. Koch, Alfred Knapp, Fred Kothman, Michael Boub, Gottlieb Faelman, Herman Sendow, Herman Buchholz, John F. Ehringer, Alois Golling, and Loren Richter. The exercises began this morning.

THE MONROE FORGER IS RE-CAPTURED AND COMMITTS SUICIDE BY TAKING STRYCHNINE.

His Cunning in Planning Escape From the Green County Jail and Hospital.

Ben Miller, the Green county forger, mention of whom has been frequently made in the Gazette, escaped from the Green county jail last Saturday morning between one and two o'clock. Being under the doctor's care he was transferred to the hospital ward. Having been pronounced seriously ill the usual precautions were not observed. His game was so finely played that he, even fooled the doctor. Many thought Miller received assistance from the outside. In giving an account of Miller's escape and capture, and of his self-destruction the Monroe Sentinel, of June 19th, says: Sheriff Jackson telegraphed and sent postal cards offering a reward of $100, in every direction, and took all precautions to head off his man; and meantime covered a good deal of ground in the woods between Monroe and Franklin, Saturday p. m., thinking that Miller might be in that neighborhood. How near he guessed, the facts will bear witness. Miller arrived at Peterson's house, at Franklin, about 12 o'clock Saturday night, and was in that vicinity until five o'clock Sunday afternoon, or thereabouts. He found friends in that vicinity, evidently, who fed him and gave him a blanket to sleep on in Shattuck's barn. Although his presence was known Sunday morning by several, it was not until Jo. Land got out that the officers were notified at Monroe, by Mr. Land. Sheriff Jackson and Deputy Cal. More immediately started, and traveled as fast as possible, but on arriving at Shattuck's found Miller had left the barn and taken to the woods. He had probably been notified in some way that he had been discovered. The sheriff collected a posse of neighbors and secured the woods, the barns and other hiding places in the vicinity, and guarded the roads and crossings to prevent an escape. It was known that Miller was in the belt, and that he was making for Brownstown; that he was feeble and not able to travel fast, as it took him twelve hours to get from Monroe to Franklin Mills, a distance of five miles. Cal. More and Mr. Hagan drove to Brownstown, and after midnight, to notify the people there to be on the watch. But Miller probably got to Brownstown about the same time that the officers did. When he was discovered, he came to the house where James Dale was living, who recognized him. Miller saw his mistake and so left immediately. Dale at once went to the hotel and notified Deputy Baker, who proceeded a posse and followed down the road from Dale's and overtook the fugitive at about four o'clock p. m., Monday, about two miles south of Brownstown. He was brought back to Brownstown, and taken to the hotel, where he probably took his dose of strychnine, and died from its effects at about seven o'clock. He had drunk some milk before, refusing to eat breakfast with the officer, and while the men were eating their breakfast he took the fatal dose. His body was brought to Monroe and buried at the county's expense on Tuesday. The only person who saw Miller take the poison was a son of Mr. Trickle, a mere boy. These are mainly and particularly the facts as gathered from diligent inquiry.

RE FOUND NO PUNDER.

A BURGLAR ENTERS THE STUDIO OF E. C. BURDICK.

The other morning when Mr. E. C. Burdick was about to enter his studio in the Myers block West Milwaukee street, he took the key from his pocket and proceeded to unlock the door which he found to be locked. Mr. Burdick then inquired of the janitor of the building whether he had left the door unlocked. He had been absent from town a number of days, and it occurred to him that he might have forgotten to lock it as he was in somewhat of a hurry when he left the rooms two or three evenings before. At the right as you enter the studio at the further end of the hall, is a door that leads to a small room which contained, among other things, a chest in which Mr. Burdick kept tools, copying etc. The door to this room was also found to be unlocked, the cover of the large chest which had been securely locked prior evening before was found pried open, and the lock broken. The cover was somewhat demolished, but nothing was taken from the contents of the chest. The burglars evidently thought that it contained something very valuable in the way of artist's materials, money or something of that sort. No other trace of them could be found, and as no particular damage resulted from this work, a search for them was not commenced.

TRY TO GO TO HINNAPOLIS.

RICKFORD AND JANEVILLE CONCORDIA SOCIETIES GO TO THE SANGREEST.

The platform of the Chicago & Northwestern depot was crowded last evening. The members of the Concordia Society were about to depart for Minneapolis. The 8:40 vestibule train pulled in amid cheers from those who stood on the platform, and the other societies on the train responded with songs and hurrahs, which could be heard for some distance. Everybody was happy. Philip Best was also well represented by the article which is such a favorite among our Janesville friends. The Rockford society arrived early in the evening and spent the time between trains in calling on their friends in the vicinity of the depot. Janesville is represented at the Sangreest by about eighteen representatives, among whom are: Louis Knipp, William J. Lennart, Philip W. Koch, Alfred Knapp, Fred Kothman, Michael Boub, Gottlieb Faelman, Herman Sendow, Herman Buchholz, John F. Ehringer, Alois Golling, and Loren Richter. The exercises began this morning.

THE MONROE FORGER IS RE-CAPTURED AND COMMITTS SUICIDE BY TAKING STRYCHNINE.

His Cunning in Planning Escape From the Green County Jail and Hospital.

Ben Miller, the Green county forger, mention of whom has been frequently made in the Gazette, escaped from the Green county jail last Saturday morning between one and two o'clock. Being under the doctor's care he was transferred to the hospital ward. Having been pronounced seriously ill the usual precautions were not observed. His game was so finely played that he, even fooled the doctor. Many thought Miller received assistance from the outside. In giving an account of Miller's escape and capture, and of his self-destruction the Monroe Sentinel, of June 19th, says: Sheriff Jackson telegraphed and sent postal cards offering a reward of $100, in every direction, and took all precautions to head off his man; and meantime covered a good deal of ground in the woods between Monroe and Franklin, Saturday p. m., thinking that Miller might be in that neighborhood. How near he guessed, the facts will bear witness. Miller arrived at Peterson's house, at Franklin, about 12 o'clock Saturday night, and was in that vicinity until five o'clock Sunday afternoon, or thereabouts. He found friends in that vicinity, evidently, who fed him and gave him a blanket to sleep on in Shattuck's barn. Although his presence was known Sunday morning by several, it was not until Jo. Land got out that the officers were notified at Monroe, by Mr. Land. Sheriff Jackson and Deputy Cal. More immediately started, and traveled as fast as possible, but on arriving at Shattuck's found Miller had left the barn and taken to the woods. He had probably been notified in some way that he had been discovered. The sheriff collected a posse of neighbors and secured the woods, the barns and other hiding places in the vicinity, and guarded the roads and crossings to prevent an escape. It was known that Miller was in the belt, and that he was making for Brownstown; that he was feeble and not able to travel fast, as it took him twelve hours to get from Monroe to Franklin Mills, a distance of five miles. Cal. More and Mr. Hagan drove to Brownstown, and after midnight, to notify the people there to be on the watch. But Miller probably got to Brownstown about the same time that the officers did. When he was discovered, he came to the house where James Dale was living, who recognized him. Miller saw his mistake and so left immediately. Dale at once went to the hotel and notified Deputy Baker, who proceeded a posse and followed down the road from Dale's and overtook the fugitive at about four o'clock p. m., Monday, about two miles south of Brownstown. He was brought back to Brownstown, and taken to the hotel, where he probably took his dose of strychnine, and died from its effects at about seven o'clock. He had drunk some milk before, refusing to eat breakfast with the officer, and while the men were eating their breakfast he took the fatal dose. His body was brought to Monroe and buried at the county's expense on Tuesday. The only person who saw Miller take the poison was a son of Mr. Trickle, a mere boy. These are mainly and particularly the facts as gathered from diligent inquiry.

RE FOUND NO PUNDER.

A BURGLAR ENTERS THE STUDIO OF E. C. BURDICK.

The other morning when Mr. E. C. Burdick was about to enter his studio in the Myers block West Milwaukee street, he took the key from his pocket and proceeded to unlock the door which he found to be locked. Mr. Burdick then inquired of the janitor of the building whether he had left the door unlocked. He had been absent from town a number of days, and it occurred to him that he might have forgotten to lock it as he was in somewhat of a hurry when he left the rooms two or three evenings before. At the right as you enter the studio at the further end of the hall, is a door that leads to a small room which contained, among other things, a chest in which Mr. Burdick kept tools, copying etc. The door to this room was also found to be unlocked, the cover of the large chest which had been securely locked prior evening before was found pried open, and the lock broken. The cover was somewhat demolished, but nothing was taken from the contents of the chest. The burglars evidently thought that it contained something very valuable in the way of artist's materials, money or something of that sort. No other trace of them could be found, and as no particular damage resulted from this work, a search for them was not commenced.